Post's Jr. Vice Commander to Lead Grant Draw Down Process Review

Post 201's Jr. Vice Commander Tom Richardson has been tasked by the Executive Committee to establish a team of legionnaires to review the process of how funds from a recent grant to the Post were drawn down and expended. He has not selected any members to serve on his review team at publication deadline.

Richardson's assignment is a result of a special closed meeting the executive committee held this past Tuesday, April 26. A copy of the draft minutes of that meeting along with an accompanying outline of the review process Richardson's team is undertaking is posted on the Clubroom bulletin board for any interested member of the Post to review.

As part of a final report to the Executive Committee, Richardson's team will include recommendations and suggestions for any changes to existing policies and procedures that should be implemented to manage future grants that may be made to the Post.

Following the Executive Committee's review of Richardson's recommendations, which will take place at a future meeting, the results of the Executive Committee's actions will be presented at an upcoming general membership meeting.

The Executive Committee also approved hiring a new backup, part-time bartender at the April 26 meeting.

In a separate matter, which is unrelated to the April 26 meeting, the Executive Committee has also announced it will hold an "open to membership" special meeting at 4 p.m. tomorrow to begin the budget review process for the Post's upcoming 2023-2024 Fiscal Year.
