Old Soldiers Day Recognition Continues Thanks to Post Members, Area Friends

With apologies to Rudyard Kipling who is believed to have coined the phrase, “only mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the midday sun,” it’s possible that the observation needs to be modified somewhat by adding “and members of Post 201 and their guests who also go out in the midday sun.”

Helping to keep the Post’s Old Soldiers Day (OSD) tradition alive, some 30 or so members of the Post and guests braved a bright, 91-degree noonday sun this past Saturday to recognize Old Soldiers Day 2023 during a 45-minute program featuring Alpharetta Mayor Jim Gilvin, Georgia 49th District Representative Chuck Martin and Georgia 56th District Senator John Albers.

Following the ceremony the crowd did grow somewhat larger as participants moved inside for air conditioned comfort, drinks, and a hotdog and hamburger lunch prepared by Legion members who volunteered their time during the baseball season to work at the concession stand.

The N2U band also drew a few onto the dance floor as they performed during lunch and for an hour or so after that.

Perhaps the most thought-provoking comment during the 12 noon ceremony was offered by Albers who quoted his friend and fellow Georgian, Army Colonel Mike Steele who is well know for saying “Patriotism without action is counterfeit.” Some may remember that Steele was portrayed by actor Jason Isaacs in the film “Black Hawk Down.”

SAL member and former Alpharetta city judge Scott Childress MC’d the ceremony. Post “Ambassador” Roger Wise, who arranged for the guest speakers, led the Pledge of Allegiance, and former city councilman John Monson, who is noted for his musical voice, sang the National Anthem. USAF veteran David Mitchell, who is also chaplain for the Roswell Masonic Lodge, offered the invocation.

Other participants included the Johns Creek Veterans Association color guard, and four members of the Greater Atlanta Area 9th and 10th Cavalry Association Buffalo Soldiers.

During the ceremony Childress surprised the Buffalo Soldiers presiding officer, Derrick Davis, with 2018 Old Soldiers Day t-shirt. The shirt, which featured horse soldiers, also marked the last year that the Post and the city of Alpharetta produced the well-remembered Old Soldiers Day parade.

In those days the parade terminated at the Post, which had the effect of bringing a thousand or more people to the Post to celebrate OSD!
